VI MEDIATION IN DIALOGUE COLLOQUIUM

MEDIATION FOR HUMAN RIGHTS IN THE 21ST CENTURY

May 26, 2021 | Online Colloquium

The VI Mediation in Dialogue Colloquium, to be held on May 26, 2021, deals with a current and emerging theme for contemporary society, bringing Mediation for Human Rights into the 21st century for discussion. In an increasingly globalized world, social challenges arise that demand an adaptation of daily practices in favor of Human Rights. Mediation, as a practice of social regulation, has assumed a predominant and active role in responding to these challenges by providing educational spaces for empowerment, education and learning.

Dialogue, constructive communication, critical interpersonal and collective reflection allows building understandings around the common reality and enhancing a social space of harmonious coexistence where Human Rights are safeguarded.

Based on this assumption, the VI Colloquium Mediation in Dialogue aims to promote and deepen the dialogue and reflection around the potential of Mediation for Human Rights, to recognize Mediation experiences that promote Human Rights and to understand the challenges and opportunities of the 21st century for the (re)cognition of Mediation in guaranteeing Human Rights.
